Gallaudet Day Program

December 10, 1993, the Deaf Studies classes presented the Gallaudet Day Program with 8 historical playlets (scenes) in observance of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet's birthday. Thomas H. Gallaudet and Frenchman Laurent Clerc were pioneers of deaf education in America with the establishment of the first permanent school for the deaf in Hartford, Connecticut.

The Deaf Studies class decorated the bulletin board in observance of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet's birthday as part of a course project.

The restless audience are waiting for the Gallaudet Day Program to start at Healy Hall.

In Scene 3 Thomas H. Gallaudet (Ricco Williams) earnestly asks for help from Thomas Braidwood (Donald Milby).

In Scene 5 the first class of seven pupils at the Connecticut Asylum for the Education and Instruction of Deaf and Dumb Persons. (Later renamed American School for the Deaf.

Andy Haussling is looking at a previous yearbook for ideas.

Ricco Williams is typing copy.

Jason Smith is selecting pictures to be used in the yearbook.

To the Readers:

The staff wants to thank the students, teachers, staff for keeping VSDB alive and well. By looking at this book we will always have many different memories about what has happened during 1993-94.

We have worked hard on this yearbook this year. It was hard to decide what pictures to put in the yearbook but it sure was a good experience for us to work for the White Columns Staff.

We also would like to thank the seniors who have worked hard on the yearbook. We hope that someday you people will look back and remember the past and see your friends again and bring the yearbook with you and talk to your old friends about the good times you had while you were in school at VSDB. It will mean a lot to you.

The staff would also like to thank Mr. Dingledine for his help this year with the White Columns Staff. We hope that this yearbook is something very special that everybody will always remember.

Have a good year!
